NO MORE LOAFING ON THE JOB.

A story is told by E. E. Harriman of neighboring farmers and it illustrates why this country has changed from the volunteer to the selective draft in the raising of an army to protect the interests of all.

Three farmers lived side by side, their farms running like long slabs of green and yellow and brown embroidery across Dame Nature's bosom. John Henry lived in the center, Jacob at the east and Ole at the west. They had the usual agreement about line fences, each man to build and keep in repair one-half the line between his own and his neighbor's land. John Henry set up good cedar posts and strong rails, making a fence that he could bank on, without renewal, for a number of years. Jacob hauled old, half-rotted rails from his north line, in the shadow of the forest. Ole went on with his work of getting more acres under the plow and built no part of on with his work of getting more acres under the plow and built no part of his share. Then the cattle swarmed across from his back pasture, to eat John Henry's corn. Jacob's hogs broke rotten rails and came in from the other side to root up his potatoes and ruta bagas and eat his garden truck.

Then John Henry waxed wroth and appealed to the law to compel his careless, lazy, indifferent neighbors to do their share of fence work. "You are an expert, you know how, having built such good fences on your own share. Now build ours and let us go on with our other and pleasanter tasks," they cried to him.

"Not by a jugful," quoth John Henry, wrathfully. "I have built fences while you slept or loafed or played or made money. Now get out and build your share like men. I am tired of having you lay off the job just because you don't like it and think, perhaps, I will do it all. That doesn't go down with me any longer."

John Henry was riled. Do you blame him? John Henry was a volunteer, but Jacob and Ole were slackers. And now John Henry can't wait for the draft law to go into effect; for though it takes his son, it takes also the sons of Jacob and Ole. Of course, they are growling. They would. They are that kind.

But, at least, John Henry's son will

SILENCE MEN LIKE BERGER.

There is a demand throughout the country for more vigorous censorship to be applied to men of the unpatriotic make up of former Congressman Victor L. Berger of Milwaukee, who, at the meeting of Socialists at Madison Square Garden last week, gave utterance to a veiled threat of riots in New York, Chicago and Milwaukee, if this country did not declare in greater particular why we are at war.

An eastern writer says: "Berger's declaration makes him a logical candidate for a term in prison. It is in direct contravention of federal laws against treasonable and seditious utterances. It defies every article in the ethical code of patriotism. That Berger is a native of Austria-Hungary, and has been widely known as an editor of German-language newspapers in this country, serves but to make this offense the more conspicuous in circumstances like the present. It would take but little of that kind of talk, even from such a recognized 'anti-everything' crank as Berger, to sow sedition in an ignorant or a thoughtless element of our country's population. The entire tendency of such language is to discourage military registration, to throw a damper on popular sympathy with the government's war procedure and, in short, to 'lend aid and comfort to the enemy.' It is for the purpose of dealing properly with just that sort of thing that drastic laws have been made and are being made, supplementary to those long in existence."

This country is in a great war, resolved to subdue the wild beast of Europe, and any man attempting to tie the hands of those entering the struggle on the side of freedom will invite at least contempt and perhaps serious personal restraints.

PROVIDING LABOR FOR THE FARMS.

So important is the crop problem that the federal government has made plans to specially care for the labor problem involved in the gathering of the harvest. There is to be organization of farm labor and nation-wide co-operation with the farmer.

The plan worked out by the government provides for strictly local handling of all labor problems that can be adjusted locally. The fundamental unit of the organization is the "community man" who, with the assistance of such committees as he may appoint, canvasses his own neighborhood, finds out what farmers need help, and what men are available for supplying the local need, and effects such adjustments as can be made locally. If, after all local adjustments have been made, there remains either a deficit or a surplus of labor, he reports to the "county man," whose business it is to effect adjustments between the several communities in his county. The county man, in turn, reports any deficit or surplus to the "state man," who canvasses the situation for the state as a whole and reports to the department of agriculture, which, in close co-operation with the department of labor, is charged with the distribution of mobile labor for the country as a whole. Thus each unit in the system acts as a clearing house for its own territory, reporting to the units higher up only when it needs help or has help to offer.

HOW THE WAR IS BROUGHT HOME.

At Ft. Douglas houses to care for 1,800 German prisoners of war taken from interned ships are being erected and the demand for lumber has been so great in the constructing of the buildings that 26 carloads of material shipped into Ogden for local structures has been diverted and ordered to Fort Douglas. This is another direct reminder that we are at war. Early today an order came from army headquarters in Salt Lake to buy all the ranges of a certain make in the hardware and furniture stores of Ogden, and by afternoon there will not be an available stove of that description, which is further evidence of the necessities of war.

With the great call on the iron and steel works for ship material and ordnance, big reduction plants such as the Magna near Garfield are forced to come to Ogden to obtain metal to complete additions to the copper works and by tomorrow a train of 13 cars of structural steel, shafting and iron scraps will leave the yards of the Geo.

A. Lowe Co., consigned to the Magna plant. Before this war is six months along, there will not be a line of business which will escape the influence of America's entrance into the European struggle.

Astonishing Power of Iron to Give Strength to Broken Down Nervous People

Physician Says Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Increase Strength of Delicate Folk 100 Per Cent in Two Weeks' Time in Many Instances.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—In a recent discussion Dr. E. Sauer, a Boston Physician who has studied widely both in this country and in great European Medical Institutions, said: "If you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron. The moment iron is supplied all their multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood at once loses the power to change food into living tissue, and therefore nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. As a result of this continuous blood and nerve starvation, people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down, and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin; another is burdened with unhealthy fat; some are so weak they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep at night; others are sleepy and tired all day; some are fussy and irritable; some are skiny and bloodless, but all lack physical power and endurance. In such cases it is worse than foolishness to take stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, which only whip up your flagging vital powers for the moment, maybe at the expense of your life later on. No matter what any one tells you, if you are not strong and well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the time double, and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of their symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form, and this, after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. You can talk as you please about all the wonders wrought by new remedies, but when you come down to hard facts there is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and good, sound, healthy flesh on your bones. It is also a great nerve and stomach strengthener and the best blood builder in the world. The only trouble was that the old forms of inorganic iron, like tincture of iron, iron acetate, etc., often ruined people's teeth, upset their stomachs and were not assimilated, and for these reasons they frequently did more harm than good. But with the discovery of the newer forms of organic iron all this has been overcome. Nuxated Iron, for example, is pleasant to take, does not injure the teeth and is almost immediately beneficial."

NOTE.—The manufacturers of Nuxated Iron have such unbounded confidence in its potency that they authorize the announcement that they will forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under sixty who lacks iron and increase their strength 100 per cent or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. Also they will refund your money in any case in which Nuxated Iron does not at least double your strength in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by A. R. McIntyre and all other druggists.—Advertisement.

The Ute Indians are talking of taking to the war path.

This is not a reflection on the patriotism of our aborigines, who are benighted and often receive false impressions through their ignorance. They should be labored with and handled as a father would a petulant child.

Our Indians have reached the conclusion they have nothing to fight for and that this country owes them much. But no nation has ever been more considerate of its wards than has the United States.

SPARROWS ARE DESTRUCTIVE.

Gardeners in the south part of the city are fighting off the sparrows, but they are making a losing fight, according to a farmer, in a report to the Standard.

Lettuce and radishes have been attacked and now young cabbage is being destroyed. The gardeners feel they should have help and are to request the city authorities to place a bounty on the destructive birds.

The sparrow is a pest and, if a bounty will reduce the predatory invader of the garden, the city will be doing a worthy service by rewarding those who slay the bird. Care must be taken though not to inaugurate an indiscriminate killing of birds, for among the feathered tribe are many friends of farmer and orchardist.

NO TIME FOR THE MALCONTENT.

Goodwin's Weekly says: "Is this war to be successfully concluded or is it to be carried on as a party affair?"

What is to be gained by throwing out these insinuations which tend to inspire distrust? This war is only two months old and in that time it is impossible to pass judgment on the administration's policy in regard to recognizing merit wherever found.

But there are politicians so constituted as to be constantly suspicious of others. They are partisans who would sacrifice their country by creating discord.

Keep politics out of this conflict. After the war we all can take note of the shortcomings of our entrusted guardians, if they have failed to come up to the expected standard of excellence.

Cafes in Mexico City have been prohibited from employing waitresses.

BUTTE 'REDS' IN STREET PARADE

Troops Called Out to Suppress the Anarchists in Copper Camp.

BUTTE, Mont., June 5.—A parade here tonight of about 600 men and women, apparently of foreign extraction, started a riot which caused the calling out of troops which had been held in local barracks in preparation for such an event. The procession was said to be in protest against registration.

A red flag carried at the head of the procession, bearing the words "Down with war," was to be the cause of protests of large crowds of citizens. Policemen grabbed the leaders of the procession, when women in the line began clawing at the bluecoats. Several shots were fired, but no one was hurt. Mayor W. H. Maloney, climbing to the top of a building, told the crowd he would allow fifteen minutes to disperse.

The troops were called a few moments later when it was realized the police were powerless to cope with the crowds. They drew bayonets, forcing the crowd to disperse and assisted in making arrests, about ten persons being taken to the city prison. The city is virtually under martial law, soldiers patrolling all of the downtown streets and allowing no groups to congregate. The troops, it has been announced, are under orders to shoot, if necessary. All the saloons have been closed.

Up to midnight fifteen arrests had been made. James E. Treanor, secretary of the Pearce-Connelly club, a local Irish society, was said to have been named in an alleged statement by Edward Keenan and John McDonnell as being responsible for the distribution of anti-draft literature. Treanor is under arrest.

Keenan and McDonnell, according to the United States district attorney's office, admitted having passed out bundles of the literature. All of the prisoners are being held under federal charges, their bonds being placed at $20,000 each.
